Here is your ready-to-copy, wiki-style “wikey spread” description for TIoE — The Internet of Experience. It weaves together the Hale-XP vision, Gerd Kertz’s curation, the psychotronics.info ecosystem (with its subdomains), and the full Homeunix Network mycelial web into one cohesive, invitational, copy-pasteable text block. TIoE — The Internet of Experience Step into the Holodeck. Share the living moment. Co-create the future. TIoE (The / Tactile Internet of Experience) is the next evolutionary horizon beyond the Internet of Information and the Internet of Things. It is a psychotronic-enabled, brain-computer-neural interface (BCNI) powered network in which authentic human experiences — full sensory textures, emotions, memories, perspectives, and inner states — can be directly shared, overlaid, recorded, and co-experienced in real time or as living streams. Imagine feeling the exact warmth and rhythm…
